Rock-Paper-Scissors Game User Manual

1. Introduction

Welcome to the Rock-Paper-Scissors game! This classic hand game has been brought to life in a digital format for you to enjoy with a friend or test your luck against the computer.

2. Getting Started

To get started, open the game in your web browser by visiting the provided URL or opening the HTML file locally. Make sure you have a modern web browser installed.

3. How to Play

Two players can participate in this game.

Player 1 and Player 2 take turns choosing either Rock, Paper, or Scissors by clicking the respective buttons.

After both players have made their choices, the game will determine the winner based on the rules:

Rock beats Scissors.

Scissors beats Paper.

Paper beats Rock.

The game will display the result: "Player 1 wins!", "Player 2 wins!", or "It's a draw!".

4. Scoring

The game keeps track of the scores for Player 1 and Player 2 in the Scoreboard section.

Player 1's score is displayed as "Player 1: [score]".

Player 2's score is displayed as "Player 2: [score]".

5. Game Interface

Player 1 and Player 2 sections are clearly labeled.

Each player has three buttons representing Rock, Paper, and Scissors to make their choices.

The Result section displays the outcome of each round.

The Scoreboard section shows the current scores for both players.

A "Join Game" button allows new players to join the game if there are available spots.

6. Troubleshooting

If you encounter any issues while playing, try refreshing the page.
